THIS KIDNEY MEDICINE MAKES FRIENDS EVERYWHERE

About four years ago I had a severe attack of kidney trouble and Gravel of the Bladder. I was afflicted with this for one year and had severe pain in my back and shooting pains in my bladder; I got so bad that I was not able to work for about two months. I could not rest at night; I would have to get up several times during the night to urinate, and at these times it caused me great pain. I read so much and heard so much of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root that I decided to try Swamp-Root; after taking several bottles I was restored to good health and I have not been troubled with my kidneys and bladder since. I cheerfully recommend Swamp-Root to others with kidney and bladder troubles.

Yours respectfully,
F. H. FLEMING,
507 E. 14th St.,
Pittsburg, Kansas.

Personally appeared before me this 5th day of May 1915, F. H. Fleming, who subscribed to the above statement and made oath that the same is true in substance and in fact.

JOSEPH KEYS, Justice of the Peace.

WALLEY HOG MEN FIGHT DISEASE

Effort to Prevent Disease Among Porkers Spread in the Valley.

Important meetings of all farmers interested in hog raising will be held at the Yafeta school house Saturday, at 10 o'clock and at the Clint school house at 2 o'clock. Dr. P. H. Jones, of the bureau of animal industry, is to be the principal speaker. He has had a great deal of experience in the treatment of diseases peculiar to hogs, and has been brought here by county demonstration agent A. G. Graham, for the purpose of giving the farmers pointers on how to keep their hogs healthy and how to eradicate diseases.

Mr. Graham attributes most of the diseases among hogs to the use of slops from the restaurants, which, he declares, are the spreaders of disease in many forms.

For instance, he says: "Occasionally, regardless of the careful federal inspection at the packeries, a hog may be killed with hog cholera germs in its system. These, even after the ham or bacon is cured, may still exist in the meat, and when the meat is cooked, the germs, but often there are trimmings which are cut off in restaurants and hotels before the meat is cooked. These can convey the germs to hogs feeding upon the swill and waste. Cabbage that come from districts infected with hog diseases, when thrown into the slop and garbage can, may also convey diseases to hogs."

The hog industry in the El Paso valley is new and it is the wish of Mr. Graham to protect the people of the valley on the methods to use to stamp out or avoid disease.

There is to be a meeting of El Pasoans interested in the hog industry, at the chamber of commerce Friday afternoon, for a discussion of conditions with Dr. Jones, prior to the two valley meetings scheduled for Saturday.

Some hogs have died in the lower valley recently and it is to curb the deaths and guard against a spread of hog diseases that the meetings are being organized.

CHIEF'S SAYS 350 BOYS IN SCHOOL

Takes War Orphans to Hermosillo; Troops Guard Eastern Sonora Border.

Douglas, Ariz., March 30.—Gen. P. Elias Calles, military governor of Sonora, will leave Agua Prieta tomorrow or Saturday for Hermosillo, the state capital, escorting 350 orphaned boys who are being gathered in northern Sonora town. Upon arriving there he will attend the dedication of the Sonora State Industrial school, and see that his charges are comfortably installed.

During the absence of Gen. Calles, Gen. Arnulfo Gomez will command the de facto main forces in northeastern Sonora.

A new distribution of troops was announced this morning by Ives G. Leveier, Mexican consul in Douglas.

Calles believes that Villa is effectively cut off by the American troops on the north and the de facto troops on the east or south, in Chihuahua. That leaves Calles, to the west, as his possible refuge.

Disposition of Troops.

According to new orders, 1200 of Gen. Calles' cavalry are concentrated in Colonia Morelos, 65 miles southeast of Agua Prieta. From there they can move rapidly either north or south along the adjacent Chihuahua border, reaching Ojima and Carrizosa passes.

Another cavalry force of 400 is stationed in Cajon Buita, near San Luis Potosi, Gen. Estrada, with 2000 troops, Dolores pass, and the Salinas district of Sonora. One thousand infantry, of which 700 are stationed in Cajon Buita, 78 miles south, and 500 in Agua Prieta, operate this way.

Calles is finding the problem of provisioning his forces in isolated locations a vexing one. Wagon trains are proving inadequate and costly. Calles said today that three motor trucks are being sent from Hermosillo to supplement the wagons.

SAYS PERSHING USES ROAD FOR TROOPS FOR 10 DAYS

Columbus, N. M., March 30.—American troops have been using the Mexico North Western railway for a distance of about 140 miles daily for about ten days, according to Walter Warren, a negro trooper in troop A, Tenth cavalry, who reached here today.

Washington, D. C., March 30.—More horses are to be sent to Gen. Pershing. Several hundred are being bought in California and an estimate for 2000 more has been sent to congress. Every cavalry horse at the army remount stations has been sent to the border.

Warren said that the other ten men injured are being cared for at the field hospital at Casas Grandes.

PASSENGER AND LUMBER TRAIN FROM CASAS GRANDES

A train is expected to arrive Friday from Casas Grandes. The train will be a mixed train composed of passenger and lumber cars.

A number of passengers are expected to come up on the train and there will also be several cars of lumber for the El Paso Milling company.

More Horses Are to Be Sent to Gen. Pershing

Washington, D. C., March 30.—More horses are to be sent to Gen. Pershing. Several hundred are being bought in California and an estimate for 2000 more has been sent to congress. Every cavalry horse at the army remount stations has been sent to the border.

REGISTERED STOCK FOR HALL RANCH IS SHIPPED

Vinton, Texas, March 16.—Twenty Holstein cows and one registered bull are to be shipped from Greenville, Ill., this week to the Hall ranch on the west side. E. J. Hall has left for Greenville to attend to the shipping of this stock.

The number of muscles in an elephant's trunk has been estimated at 40,000, which is a larger number than any other creature possesses in its entire body.

HAS ONLY TWO GOOD ENGINES

Can Keep Ahead With Trucks.

Mr. Elliott said he had an abundance of supplies on hand, and that with the start already made by the use of trucks, he could keep ahead of the game in supplying the soldiers at the front.

Ten motor trucks, Jeffery make, were shipped out the depot, quarter-master's department Thursday morning to Columbus, and the information was given out that 17 additional trucks would arrive in El Paso today and be shipped through to the border town at once.

The placing in service of 27 more cars swells the number available for immediate service to 173. From auto row in El Paso comes the information that 27 new trucks are due within the first two weeks of April, raising the number of trucks to be employed for hauls by April 10 to 242.

Private Concerns Ship.

Private concerns in the Casas Grandes country are taking advantage of the presence of the United States army in mid-Chihuahua to make shipments of foodstuffs to Casas Grandes and thereabouts. Three carloads of supplies comprising flour, oats, corn, hay and other commodities were made up in El Paso Wednesday and one of the cars crossed to the North Western railroad Wednesday between 5 and 6 o'clock, while the other two cars crossed the river Thursday morning.

The cars were made up at the Santa Fe freight station and the shipment is said to be the second of the same character during the past two weeks. Two other cars have been reported to have made the route some ten days back.

Shipping P. R. Hurst, of the Mormon church, who did so much to help relief to the colonists when threatened by Villa, stated Thursday that it was his intention to ship some 1000 bushels of grain to the border.

At Guzman were planning to import large quantities of foodstuffs with a view to relieving the soldiers and filling up such gaps as might not be supplied by the motor trains out of Columbus.

No Duty.

There is no duty upon the primary foods, as they are booked in the records of the El Paso Mexican consulate, and the majority of the supplies that the American expedition in Mexico will require in the way of "eats" may pass from the north side of the Rio Grande to the south side, even though consigned to merchants in Casas Grandes, without duty being imposed upon them.

The free list consists of rice, beans, corn, wheat, flour, peas, barley, lentils, butter, milk products, preserved meats and fish, lard, table oil, fruits, truck, vegetables, seed, feeding grains and the manufactured products of flour, cereals, crackers, macaroni, vermicelli and common soap.

Guns and Ammunition Excluded.

What complications might arise over the including of materials foreign to those cited in the list remains to be seen after the manifest of the shipments is submitted to the custom officials on the Mexican side. The free list does not include guns or ammunition.

When Andreas Garcia, the Mexican consul in El Paso, was informed that supplies were acceptable, if shipped to contractors or merchants in Mexico and disposed of as they might contract, he said:

"It is purely a business matter and should be handled in that way. I notice that there is no provision for any army control, nor is there any necessity for one."

Embargo on Arms.

There is an embargo upon the shipment of arms into Mexico, unless consigned under the approval of the government officials. This question may be successfully negotiated by the placing of seals upon the cars, and the making of the shipments under conditions similar to those of the Carrancista troops from Eagle Pass to Agua Prieta.

Mal. William Elliott, depot quartermaster, said Wednesday: "If there is a duty upon any of the shipment, I suppose it will be paid."

The rolling stock of the Mexico North Western railway will be used to make the hauls and because of the fact that the transaction is to be commercial and not military in its coloring, the rolling stock that has been designated for this purpose in the yards of the El Paso & Southwestern, with special crews, will probably not be used. If additional cars are needed to make the hauls, they will be secured from the American side by the Mexican line.

No Duty on Gasoline.

"There was duty on gasoline until recently," said Andreas Garcia, the Mexican consul in El Paso, Thursday morning. "but it was revoked and gasoline is now free of duty. The duty on clothing is very small."

The consul was asked what measures would be required in order to ship munitions and guns over the Northwestern. He replied that such articles could scarcely be classed as primary merchandise and would be dutiable.

Questioned if such supplies might not be placed in sealed cars and shipped south in the same manner as the ammunition and guns over the Northwestern, he passed from Eagle Pass to Agua Prieta, he replied that the conditions were not identical. The Carrancista troops were simply passing through the United States to carry on a campaign in Mexico, while the American troops are in Mexico and fighting," he said.
